In all Weathers!

The importance of learning outside cannot be overestimated and this book is crammed full of creative and innovative ideas to help add the 'great' to 'outdoors'! The 50 activities will help you to embrace the rich possibilities of learning outside, whatever the weather and space available. The activities include learning from nature, outdoor investigations, imaginative play, stories old and new, and seasonal celebrations. Each activity follows the same format for ease of reference: starter, resources, main activity, extension ideas, reflections and links to the EYFS. A fantastic book for all settings wanting to take more learning outdoors or for those involved in forest schools. Written by Sam Goddard, an experienced forest school leader, this handbook with clear theoretical grounding will prepare practitioners well for purposeful outdoor adventures.

Interactive Story Apps

These engaging apps offer children opportunities to get hands-on with stories. Suitable for use on various devices, including iPad and Android tablets, users can choose the animated story or song, move characters around on screen, play related games, explore the interactive non-fiction and record their own personalised versions of the tale. Stories come to life through a mix of rhythm, rhyme and song, and appealing game play.

- Read with me, sing with me – children can follow the animated story as it is read or sung to them.
- Let me play – a range of interactive games, including auditory discrimination, story sequencing activities and 'play with the story' that allow children to get hands-on with the tale, triggering animations as they explore each page.
- Find out about – offers additional interactive features and fully narrated throughout, these non-fiction activities provide a springboard into other curriculum areas.
- My own stories – in 'Tell a story', children can move characters on screen and voice record their own retelling of the story as they do so. In 'Write a story', children's versions can be scribed.

Number Formation App

Following on from our successful Letter Formation App, this innovative number app is an inviting way to support young children learning about numbers and how to form them. Choose a number from 1-20, watch a helpful insect draw it in the sand, and hear the number spoken. Now try to draw the number in its track, watching your own trail form. Choose a new number or activate the tide to come in and wash your attempt away and try again. Teacher options provide the facility to select what the user hears and which numbers they can access for more focused work. Use with our Feels-Write Number Stones for a complete multisensory experience, blending physical and digital learning.

All apps are available for iPad, Android tablet, PC and Mac, and can be downloaded from our website.

Dinosaur Bones Match and Measure

Perfect for budding palaeontologists, these bones are just waiting to be discovered! Bury them in sand, soil or even water, they will instantly appeal to children's instincts to explore, investigate, sort, collect and measure. Children will delight in discussing their discoveries, so this set provides the perfect opportunity to develop and practise the descriptive language of measurement. The set includes 16 bones – two of each size: 6, 8, 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20cm. Age 3+.

Match and Measure App

This maths app really measures up! Based on our bestselling dinosaur bones, three games develop comparing, estimating and measuring skills. Beginning with direct comparisons, the games progress to non-standard and standard measurements as the bones are used in different ways to consolidate and extend children's mathematical understanding. Children will have lots of fun uncovering the bones in the sand and learning how to compare and measure in different ways.

This app can be enjoyed alongside the physical Match and Measure resources or independently of them. Available for iPad, Android tablet, PC and Mac.

Pre-coding practice

Pre-coding Penguin Stones

These penguins will develop the use of directional and positional language, problem solving, pattern making, logical thinking, matching and sequencing skills. Once children are secure with the physical skills of ordering and manoeuvring, they will have the confidence to apply the same skills in more abstract ways with early coding and digital interfaces. Used alongside our engaging Pre-coding Activity Cards, they will provide challenge and nurture children's thinking skills. Contains 18 penguins: four of each directional arrow and two without arrows. Safe for age 2+.

We have now developed 26 delightful and engaging apps for young learners growing up in a digital world. The immersive new Sensory Worlds app will engage the youngest, while other apps secure literacy and numeracy skills. Each title is designed to offer seamless play between a child's physical and digital world with familiar graphics and objects used in both environments. Digital table versions are usually sold as a complete collection of all 26 apps and installed by technology resellers.

NEW Sensory Worlds App: Woodland, Rock Pool, Garden

Be transported into three soothing natural worlds that invite interaction, curiosity and discussion. The gently rippling rock pool comes alive to touch as crabs scuttle, jellyfish pulse and anemones wave. As you clear the forest floor, snails slide, ladybirds fly and treasure is revealed. Collect apples, discover wildlife and find out what else is waiting to be uncovered as you take a gentle wander round the garden. Each environment can be explored as a live picture with subjects that can be selected to see how they respond, including photographic images and realistic sound effects. There is also a magnifier function to encourage the children to really see the detail and investigate further. This app has been designed to complement our tactile sensory resources but can be enjoyed independently.

Learn early maths skills: sorting, counting, matching, ordering, number patterns and bonds, comparing, measuring, logical thinking and problem solving.

These apps celebrate and extend the very best features of our physical resources, as they encourage children to explore, investigate and deepen their understanding of maths in a hands-on way. Allowing children to explore at their own level and gain confidence in their own learning, instant feedback and rewards keep children playfully engaged and enable self-correction. Activities can be set at different levels, catering for different needs and encouraging progressive learning.

“The children gain so much from your apps and the story ones are such fun as they can record each other and the children love hearing themselves.”

Pre-school Manager

“My children were using the Pre-Writing App with the Pre-Writing Stones during our recent Ofsted inspection. Ofsted commented on how well the app and the physical stones worked together and how much the children seemed to be enjoying it.”

Childminder

“Our children have really enjoyed playing with these apps and have a good sense of achievement when playing with them. They maintain attention and the older children are showing better knowledge of letter sounds and shapes.”
